About Us

Asian Concreto has become one of the most preferred names in the Nepal construction industry because of the clear-cut strengths that set it apart from other unorganized players in the market.

The best raw material: Our quality control procedure begins right at the core - by picking raw materials that are truly top notch. Our aggregate crushing plant ensures the raw materials are created properly, and they are tested as well to ensure the best standard of concrete mix for our product line.

The best European Technology: We have invested in state-of-the-art German Technologies and the advanced mechanisms ensure that we are the best when it comes to block making - with zero room for any kind of error!

The end result is that all our products are of the top notch quality - be it build, design or size!
